RESOURCE PERSON: Dr. MANI, Librarian DDGDVC

NUMBER OF STUDENT PARTICIPANT: 23

NUMBER OF STAFF PARTICIPANTS: 2

REPORT:

On 26th of September the “IN-HOUSE” Hands on workshop on ‘Effective usage of e- resources in research’ has been conducted by the Newberg Crew, Department of Biochemistry, especially for II MSc. Biochemistry students. Dr. Mani, Librarian, DDGDVC, the speaker emphasized the various E-sources that are available online with plenty of information that can make academics easy but unaware among the students. The Speaker also focused on topics like creating login IDs in different platforms like Google scholar, Orchid, Scopus, Research gate etc and how to use these platforms and the content of it in detail, that is applied to a project and research to make it adequate and valid.

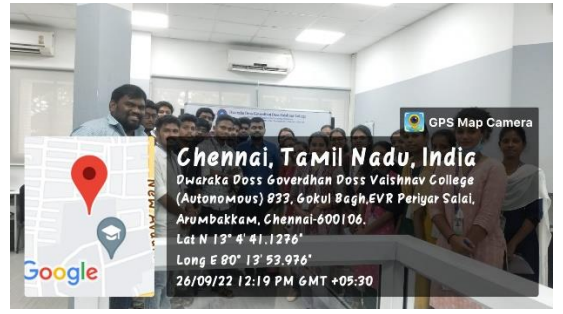

The keynote shared by the speaker about the preparation of a CV (curriculum vitae) and Do’s and Don’ts for attending the interview has been eye-opening for final-year students. A sweet, orange candy made the students listen with a smile and more attentiveness.

During this event, the students were given Hands-On training to access the webservers and explore them according to the command. This interactive session gave students a ‘Spark’ to wake up their area of lagging and an opportunity for students to solve their enquires.

A token of appreciation was given to 4 students Bharathi Kannan, Jaya Priya, sneha P, and Vinodhini for their active participation. Students found this event very useful, shared the feedback with everyone and welcomed more interactive sessions in the future.

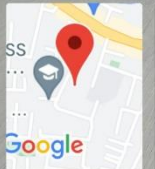

OUTCOME OF THE PROGRAM:

11. Detailed Report of the Programme:

At 9 am I year BSc Botany Students were taken to Kovalam for Algal collection through Bus. Many Algal forms were collected from rock surfaces and waters. The students were explained about the algal types and their uses in various products and food sources. Later, the students were taken to Oferr Nallayan Spirulina Research Centre, Natham. The students and staff members were provided with a welcome drink that consisted of Spirulina extract cultivated in the same place. Then the students were taught about the origin, uses and facts about Spirulina through Powerpoint presentations. Then the students were taken to cultivation sites where they witnessed the live harvesting of spirulina. The students were explained about the procedures of growing spirulina and maintenance of the cultures. Then the harvested spirulina were directly given to students for examination. The authorities mentioned that harvested spirulina could be directly consumed. Even some students were told to apply it on their faces and skin since it's safe. The students and staff members were taken to a stall where the products made from spirulina were displayed for buying. These products were made by their own people. Then the bus left the spirulina research centre at 4:30 pm and reached the college campus at 6 pm.

12. Outcome of the programme/event

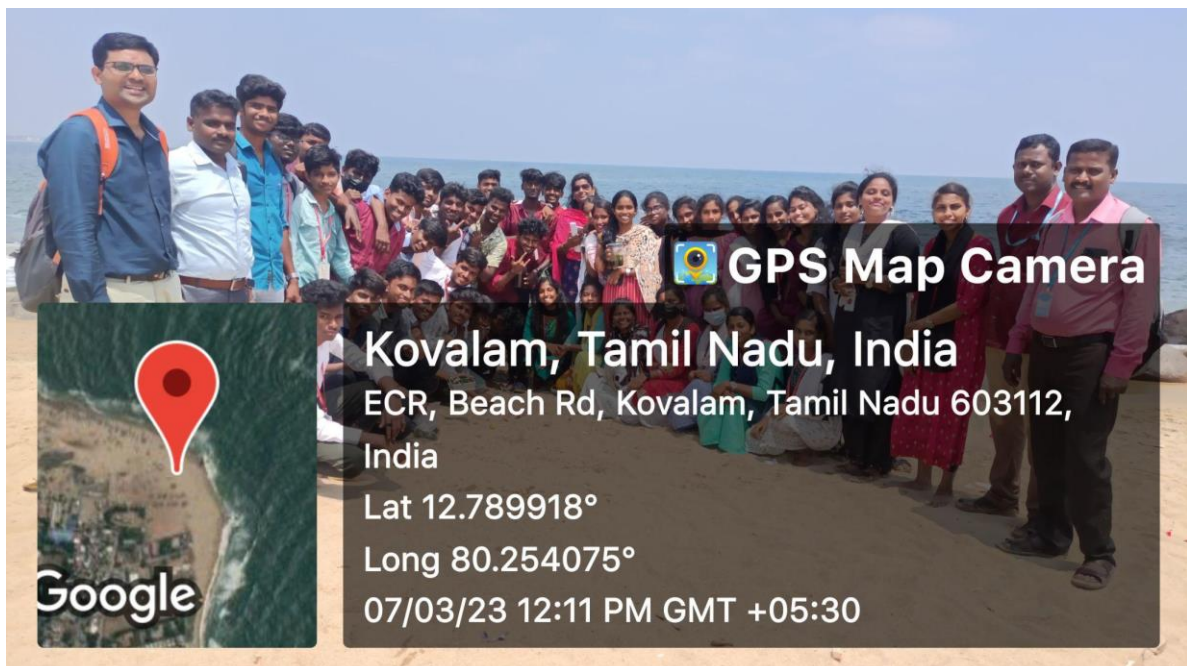

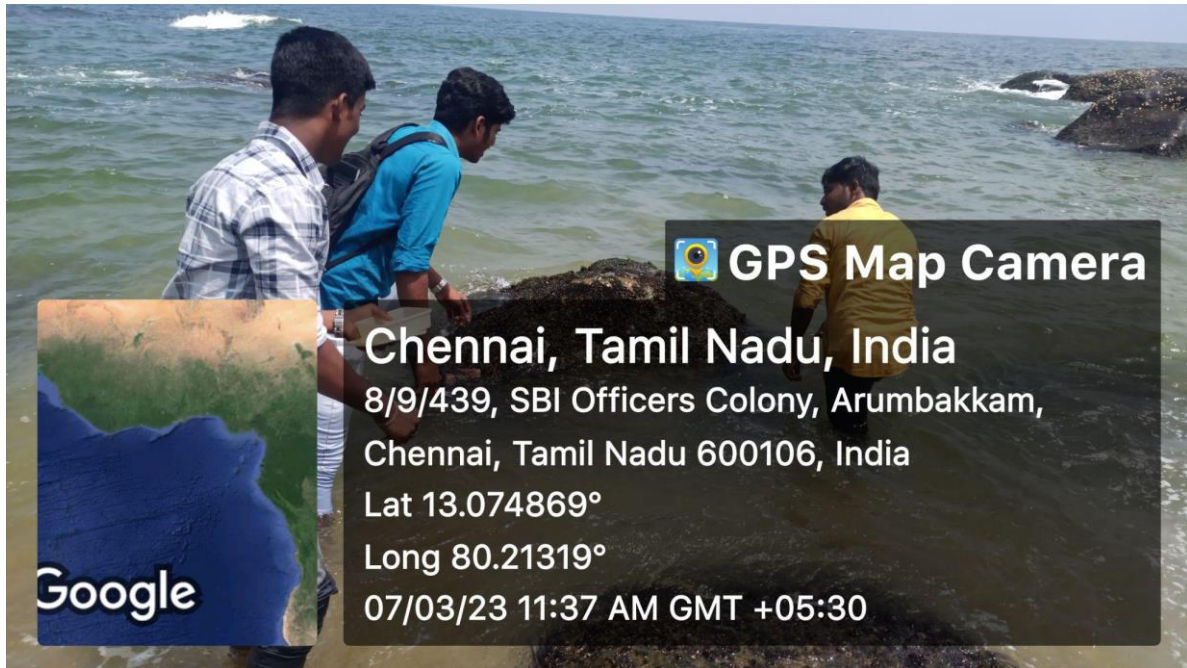

Students were excited to witness algae in their natural habitat. They were also able to gain knowledge about the Spirulina farming and their importance to animals and humans.

7. Detailed Report of the Programme:

The Library, DDGD Vaishnav College, conducted a Workshop titled “Research Writing Made Easy” on 08.11.2022 in the Gyan Darshan Auditorium, School of Management. 95 participants comprising of students from the PG Department of Commerce (Shift II), B.Com Marketing Management and research scholars from various departments participated in the workshop. Dr.K.Ramasamy, College Librarian, M.V.Muthiah Government Arts College for Women (Affiliated to Mother Teresa Women's University, Kodaikanal) Dindigul, Tamil Nadu, was the resource person. The session commenced with the presidential address delivered by Dr. S. Santosh Baboo, Principal, DDGD Vaishnav College. Dr.P.Sathyanarayanan, Assistant Professor and Head i/c, P.G Department of Commerce (Shift II) and Ms.V.Gayathri, Assistant Professor and Head i/c, Department of Marketing Management delivered the keynote address of the session. The programme was organized to give an exposure to the research scholars and students on various areas, such as how to make use of SPSS for research work, how to carry out both descriptive and inferential statistics using SPSS, help them understand various online sources from where they could collect reviews for this research work and also to enable them render references using the preferred style manual. The students came up with creative open-ended questions and deliberated during the session. The workshop concluded with a prize distribution and a feedback session. The vote of thanks was rendered by Dr.M. Mani, Librarian, Dwaraka Doss Goverdhan Doss Vaishnav College.

8. Outcome of the programme:

The participants were given enough exposure on research writing. It enabled the participants with the required knowledge and competent skills to write any research article, paper or dissertation effectively. The participants got an acquaintance with SPSS interface, how to enter data directly in SPSS and how to import data from MS Excel. It also empowered them with the knowledge on how to carry out descriptive / inferential statistical tests and writing interpretation for the results of various statistical tests.

Detailed report of the Programme:

The program started with Prayer song followed by welcome address and introduction to the speaker and then the stage was given to the speaker. The program begun with guest speaker thanking his alma matters and he proceeded to explain how statistics is helpful for commerce. He explained the vitality of statistics in research and taught few mathematical methods.

Then explained what is research and what are the ways statistics helps the research in his research. Explained how statistics play an important role in some area of research field.

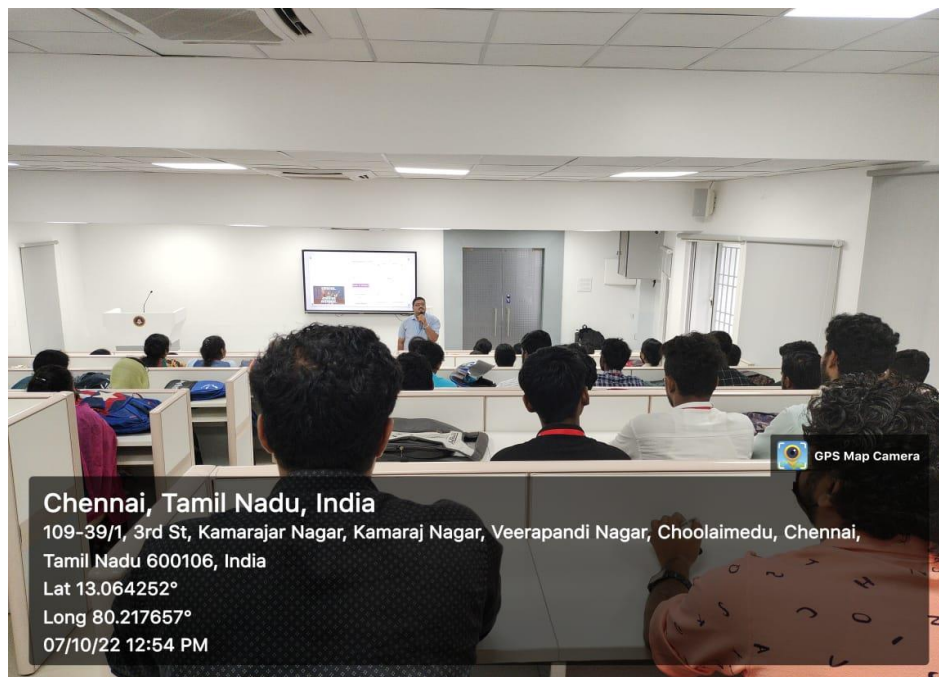

Feedback:

This session was very interactive, highly informative and engaging. The students were able to understand the Significance of statistics in research. Many gave the review that these kind of sessions makes them in improvement by not only academically but also informatively.

Outcomes:

After this the Students understood the importance of statistics and also learnt some career paths in statistics. Students learnt few mathematical approached to research by using statistical methods.

Detailed report of the program:

The PG & Research Department of Microbiology organized a lecture on thesis writing. Dr. P.Vidya, Head, PG & Research Department of Microbiology, DDGDVC, Chennai, listed the purpose of thesis writing step by step. To identify the knowledge gaps in the relevant research paper and the Strong research questions guide the design of studies and define which helps to identify specific objectives. She emphasized the need for thorough research and suggested using credible sources such as academic journals, books, and primary sources. She also advised students to take notes and organize their research in a systematic manner. The first draft will help the students to think clearly and logically. She insisted students to write the first draft and structure it and revise it multiple times. Dr. Vidya stated that writing research thesis is a gradual process that requires time and effort.

Detailed report of the program:

The PG & Research Department of Microbiology organized an event on “Workshop on Response Surface Methodology-Statistical Tool for optimization Studies”. The event started with the welcome note by Dr. P. Vidya, Head of the Department, Dwaraka Doss Goverdhan Doss Vaishnav College, Chennai. The primary objective of workshop on RSM is to determine the optimal combination of input variables that will result in the desired output response. This workshop achieves this by creating a response surface, which is a three-dimensional plot that shows how the output response changes with changes in the input variables.

Dr. M.Abirami handled the session I, she mentioned the steps involved in RSM, including experimental design, model development, and optimization. The experimental design involves selecting the appropriate factors or input variables, their levels, and their combinations. The model development involves developing mathematical equations that describe the relationship between the input variables and the output response. Finally, the optimization involves using the response surface model to identify the optimal combination of input variables that will result in the desired output response.

Linguistic Minority Institution, Affiliated to University of Madras

Arumbakkam, Chennai-600 106

Dr. V.Rajalakshmi emphasized the main advantages of RSM is that it is a cost-effective and time-efficient way to optimize complex processes. The optimization of complex processes can often require numerous experiments, which can be time-consuming and costly. RSM helps to minimize the number of experiments required by using a statistical approach to model the relationship between the input variables and the output response. She highlighted the limitations about the assumption of a quadratic response surface. This assumption may not hold true for all systems, and deviations from this assumption can lead to inaccurate results. Another limitation is the need for accurate and reliable data. Poor-quality data can lead to inaccurate models, which can produce incorrect results. Additionally, RSM cannot optimize processes that have discrete variables.

Outcome of the program: This workshop helps the student's community to explore knowledge on RSM. Participants would learn how to select appropriate factors or input variables, their levels, and their combinations.

Detailed report of the program:

The PG & Research Department of Microbiology organized a Guest Lecture on “Principles of Research Proposal Writing”. Following the brief introduction session, Dr. M. Abirami, Assistant Professor, Department of Microbiology, Dwaraka Doss Goverdhan Doss Vaishnav College, Chennai inspires the students with her interesting lecture. The presentation primarily highlighted the writing of proposals and the features that should be included in their content. She gave a detailed overview of recent progress in the science of microbiology. She encouraged the students to focus on the requirements and emphasize scientific advancements. Writing proposals enables learners to acquire a better understanding of the present situation and promotes their confidence. She gave her final remarks with a positive outlook on proposal writing.

Outcome of the program: The presentation provides the participants, the opportunity to better understanding of the research. The students actively participated and interacted with the resource person and learned useful information. Finally the program was concluded with a formal vote of thanks.

11. Detailed report on the event:

The P.G Department of English inaugurated ABL: Activity Based Learning- Enriching Competencies of English for students of BA and MA English. The main objective of the ABL club is to enrich students in English Grammar, vocabulary and English skills. The event began with a motivational talk from Prof. Praveen Prabhu, Head I/C Department of BA and MA English. An interactive and fun ABL session was conducted on Interjections and its importance in everyday language. The session consisted of various activities using ICT tools including one warm-up activity followed by 'guess the emoticons', crossword puzzles, comic strips and other fun sessions for enhancing their learning in interjections. Similar ABL sessions will be conducted every month.

12. Outcomes of the workshop :

Students gained an understanding of the practical importance of English Competencies, the usage of interjections through fun learning and interactive sessions.

Detailed Report

The Research Methodology Workshop was organized for two days between 19th and 20th January, 2023. The Resource person for this session was Dr. A. Alan Godfrey, Head and Assistant Professor, School of Social Work, St. Joseph's University. The Session started with the Guest Profile Reading by Mr. Lakshmanan. M of 2nd Year MSW.

The Resource person began the session by enquiring the students about the CSR internship and the key takeaways from the students during their course of CSR internship. Then he spoke about the Performance Management cycle and the use of Research and Development in the manufacturing sector. The Importance of Research was emphasized by the 4P's namely Passion, Problem, People and Place.

Then the Resource person briefed about the Social Worker's code of ethics and its significance in research studies. It is indeed important that the researcher should imply the code of ethics during his research study such as Informed consent, Confidentiality, Professional relationship etc. The resource person also touched upon the Role of IT industries in developing software for the payroll and other functions which also covers the front-end and back-end software work.

The Resource person then moved on to the Review of Literature. The Literature Reviews provide the background and justification for the study. The Resource person emphasized that the aim of any literature review is to summarize and synthesize the arguments and ideas of existing knowledge in a particular field without adding any new contributions. Being built on existing knowledge they help the researcher to even turn the wheels of the topic of research. The Resource person provided a basic format of the Review of Literature as given below:

- Author (Year)
- Background
- Objective
- Methodology – Optional
- Findings
- Conclusion

Then the students got an insight about the Sources of data which includes Primary data and Secondary data. The Primary data is also called as First-hand information that include data gathered through face to face interactions, whereas the Secondary data is called as Second-hand information that consists of Journals, Articles, Websites, Periodicals, Reports etc.

Then the Resource person talked about the importance of Citation/ Reference in the Reference style-APA. The Resource person also asked the students to write the literature review based on the format that he gave earlier. There was also a discussion in regard to the Social Research and Social Work Research. Then the concept of variables in the research study was discussed. The Resource person explained the concept of variables with an example of Satisfaction level based on the teaching style.

The next topic of discussion was the objectives of the research study in which the general objectives and specific objectives have to be framed for a research topic and study. The Resource said to the students that the objectives of the research study shall start with 'To'. In order to frame the objectives, the Researcher can use words like 'To study', 'To find', 'To observe', 'To evaluate', 'To determine' etc.

The Field of study in the Research methodology was also discussed along with the Area of study. The Area of study is interdisciplinary fields of research and scholarship pertaining to particular geographical, national/federal, or cultural regions. Then the Statement of the problem was also discussed which speaks about the Facts, figures and statistics of the topic. The Need for Research study, Findings and Suggestions were also covered by the Resource person.

Next the Resource person also discussed with the students about the various types of research. It is indeed important to identify the type of Research in a research study. There are various types such as Quantitative and Qualitative. The Research design comprises of Descriptive, Diagnostic, Experimental and Exploratory. The Methods used in the Data collection are Interview, Case study, Surveys, Questionnaire, Focus Group discussion and observation and also added that the Interview can be done as an Interview Schedule and Interview guide. The students also learned about the Convergent parallel, Sequential Explanatory and Sequential Exploratory.

Then Dr. Godfrey explained about the types of sampling which comprises of Probability and Non- probability sampling. He first defined about probability sampling and its types. Probability Sampling consists of Simple Random, Systematic Random, Stratified Random and Cluster sampling etc. Non-probability sampling is defined as a sampling technique in which the researcher selects samples based on the subjective judgment of the researcher rather than random selection. The Resource person said that under non-probability sampling, all the units of the population do not get an equal chance of participating in the study. The Non-probability sampling includes Convenience, Purposive, Snowball and Quota sampling.

Then on the second day the Resource person discussed about the use of Research instruments in the Research study and also about the Findings and suggestions that have to be included in the Research study. The concept of Measures of Data which include Nominal, Ordinal, Interval and Ratio were clearly explained by Dr. Alan Godfrey.

The Resource person moved on to the use of SPSS software. SPSS means “Statistical Package for the Social Sciences” which is used for editing and analyzing all sorts of data. The resource person ensured that all the students have installed the SPSS software in their laptops. The Resource person taught the students how to export an Excel Spreadsheet in SPSS software. He also explained about the SPSS user interface, data view, variable view that is the data sheet and coding sheet. He then made a live demo using the SPSS software to interpret a specific set of data where he clearly explained the students how to choose scales, add entries of appropriate values & labels and to get the frequency statistics through the Analyze tab. Also Dr. Alan Godfrey provided a data on the board and instructed the students to analyze it using SPSS and generate the appropriate frequency statistical table of the data provided which was a good practice for the students.

Next the resource person explained to the students about Zotero software and its uses. He made a live demo using Zotero windows application and Zotero chrome connect extension to generate citations and references from online articles and journals. Finally he explained about tables and charts and making interpretations with it and clearly taught the students how to write the conclusion for a research study. The Workshop on Research Methodology ended by 4:00 PM on 20th January, 2023 with the Vote of Thanks by Sarveswaran. R T of 2nd Year MSW.

Outcome of the Programme:

The Research Methodology workshop was made meaningful with the Resource person being intriguing whereby he covered all the facets of the Research study topics. The students got an insightful thought on the Research Methodology and it will be indeed an eye-opening session for the students to carry out their Research in the coming days.

The Resource person gave an overview on all the important aspects of the Research study such as the Literature Reviews, Sampling techniques, Measurement tools etc. Apart from the Research Methodology, the Resource person also gave a deep insight about the Use of SPSS software in the Data analysis of the Research. The students were motivated to learn all the features of the SPSS software and it was indeed a knowledge enrichment session in the aspect of using SPSS software. This Research Methodology workshop has ensured that the students have got clarity on their Research topics and it ensures that the Research studies can be carried out with the utmost precision based on the key takeaways from this workshop.

11. Detailed Report of the Programme

Our Government of India is celebrating Azadi ka Amrut Mahotsav to pay homage and showcase India's achievements in 75 years of Independence. The Government of India's Science and Technology organisations in close partnership with state agencies are leveraging this 'Mahotsav' as an opportunity to celebrate S&T achievements over the 75 years through programmes that inspire our youth and help them navigate into building a progressive nation.

Ariviyal Palagai is an initiative of Vigyan Prasar, DST, Govt.of India that works towards bringing out all relevant contents in Tamil Language for the above initiative. In Tamil Nadu, TNSTC (Tamil Nadu Science and Technology Centre) plays a pivotal role in conducting various events during this period throughout TamilNadu.

As a part of this initiative, the Department of Physics(Aided), Dwaraka Doss Goverdhan Doss Vaishnav College, Arumbakkam, Chennai hosted a popular Science lecture in association with TNSTC and Ariviyal Palagai, Vigyan Prasar, DST, Govt.of India. Dr. Vijayshankar Asokan, Limerick University, Ireland gave a lecture on Multidisciplinary Research in post-Covid era on 24 August 2022..In his talk he emphasized the need of Multilingual and Multidisciplinary research in the field of Science. He explained well about microscope as a pillar of researchers. He opened up the vistas in multidisciplinary research in various countries. He discussed various scholarships schemes available for higher education in abroad. Through this interactive session he threw light on how the future is going to be transdisciplinary and how the current generation should acquire language skills. He insisted on diversity in STEM based on data from India as well many other countries.

The entire session was bilingual and this helped many of our students to connect with the speaker immediately. Students interacted with him on various facets like technical skills, laboratory skills, computational knowledge using open source softwares, learning foreign languages, timeline for applying to foreign universities and different scholarships.

This talk was followed by interaction with Dr.Lenin Tamilkovan , Scientific Officer, TNSTC. and Mr.Srikumar, Ariyal Palagai. They insisted on importance on Science Communication, hands on experience the students can get at Science Centre various facilities students can avail through planetarium students can invited to spend a day at planetarium and use various mobile apps to learn astronomy also they insisted on various initiatives of DST, Govt. of India like India Science OTT platform and Ariviyal Palagai talks.

The invited speaker and officer from TNSTC released a book “KOLAM”, authored by J.Pragadeesh which is a compilation of photographs combining our traditional art form kolam with different Mathematical and Physics concepts. It is an initiative of our Department to express Science Science through Arts. They praised the students for their enthusiasm and focus. They appreciated the Department and Triple Helix Science club for their science outreach activities and encouraged the students to learn beyond the classroom.

12. Outcome of the programme:

Students learnt the importance of Multilingual and Multidisciplinary research in the field of Science. They also gained the knowledge of various types of microscopes available currently microscopy as applied to research.

EVENT REPORT:

Department of Visual Communication conducted a guest lecture on Content Analysis in Communication Research to the III Year Viscom Students With a consistent attempt to introduce Research among the final year undergraduate students as a part of their curriculum in the previous semester named Research methodology in Communication. Content analysis is a research tool used to determine the presence of certain words, themes, or concepts within some given qualitative data (i.e., text). Using content analysis, researchers can quantify and analyze the presence, meanings, and relationships of such certain words, themes, or concepts. With this the lecture aimed to introduce the concept and features of content analysis in media research.

The event also went live in Instagram under our handle name – DGVC
