MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY

An educational college is meant for the holistic development of pupil-teachers. And DDGDVC has made long strides of potential and hard work and carved a separate name for its influence in education and social/extracurricular activities. I am extremely happy to release "Finax", the long-awaited newsletter, researched and published by the Department of Finance and Taxation. I believe this newsletter will provide the essential importance and key role of finance and how it is both a tangible and non-tangible factor in our everyday life. Congratulations and best wishes on your future endeavors.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

It gives me immense pleasure to green-light the resplendent newsletter, i.e "Finax", researched and published by the small yet influential department of Finance and Taxation. Income tax as we know it today was first introduced in India in 1860 by the British to compensate for the losses sustained by the government due to the rebellion of 1857, which marks the introduction of taxation in India which plays the role of a fee is given to the government for their service and also for the advancement of our country in the coming years. Finax provides the foundation of tax and finance in our day-to-day life and how it is influencing us "the society" both directly and indirectly. I believe this magazine will provide us the benchmark for continued improvement in other overall development of the College. This magazine should be a good source of guidance for faculty and coming batches of students in choosing activities of their choice in their future for building their careers.

"A leader is the one who knows the way, goes the way and shows the way."

We live in a world of never-ending financial revolution and with it comes individual economic freedom. But the lack of financial literacy has created an epidemic, from which every economy suffers, Financial Independence is the stepping stone into the real world—a reality that not everyone is equipped to face—budgeting, credits and investing which are primordial financial decisions that every individual must comply with, filing taxes— a legal obligation, failing which one could be charged with acquisitions such as money laundering, because this subject is a part of basic survival knowledge. Therefore the rational financial decision has become a life skill and finance and taxation help acquire the same through academic education.

In the book "Saving Capitalism from the Capitalists" the Author, Raghuram Rajan and Luigi Zingales, create a very interesting narrative and understanding of the opportunities created by the financial markets and the wealth, they go on to explain how and why a legal obligation is created, such vital information are embedded, due to extensive understanding provided in the field of "Finance and Taxation", so it is beyond the shadow of a doubt that a broad knowledge of finance and taxation to everyone is the need of the hour.

An awareness programme on Intellectual Property Rights was conducted on 3rd August 2022. The session was handled by Mr.S. Udhaya Shankar (Assistant Controller of patents and designs, Ministry of Commerce and Industry; Dept of Promotion of Industry & Internal Trade).

Intellectual property (IP) refers to creations of the mind, such as inventions; literary and artistic works; designs; symbols, names, and images used in commerce. The main purpose of intellectual property law is to encourage the creation of a wide variety of intellectual goods. The speaker gave us an insight into patents, copyrights, trademarks, industrial design, and layout design. Mr. Shankar gave a wonderful webinar on IPR and shared his life experiences with the students which were taken warmly by them. The class was a motivating experience for the students and was concluded by noon with a vote of thanks.

Finance and Taxation

A comprehensive proposition to Financial Literacy.

-Darshini Swathi

We live in a world of never, ending financial revolution with it comes individual economic freedom. But the Cause of financial literacy has created an epidemic in which every economy suffers,

Financial Independence is stepping into the real world a reality that not everyone is equipped to face, budgeting. credits and investing which are primordial financial decisions that every individual must comply with, filing taxes- a legal obligation, failing which one could be charged with acquisitions such as 'money laundering.

Therefore rational financial decision has become a life skill and finance and taxation helps acquire the same through academic education

In the book "Saving Capitalism from the Capitalists the Author: Raghuram Rajan and Luigi Zingales, create a very interesting narrative and understanding of the opportunities created by the financial markets and the wealth, they go on to explain how and why a legal obligation is created, such vice information is embedded, due to extensive understanding provided in Finance and Taxation

GET TO KNOW THE NEED OF US

-Jaya Adhithya Raaj M.K

Bcom - Finance & Taxation may be a small department in DDGDVC but its impact on the world's economy is prodigious. Taxes are a part of our everyday lives and are unavoidable, but how much do we know about the system that collects them? Taxes are used to build roads and provide services, but they also keep the government running. Taxes are the price we pay for living in a country that offers so many services. India is a large country with a diverse population, which makes it difficult to collect revenue efficiently. The government has two primary methods of collecting revenue: direct and indirect taxation. And that's where we the students/aspirants come into action. Our main goal is to provide an effective as well as integrated consultancy to the diverse business structure that we have out there. Including this, we also got a great opportunity integrated with this course - "ACCA". For those who don't know about ACCA, It's the UK's version of CA (in a nutshell). The finance sector in India is one of the largest in the world. The sector employs more than six million people or about one percent of the country's workforce. It provides a range of services from lending to companies and individuals to investing to build long-term wealth. The sector is also an important source of income for many Indians, as many of the country's richest people are financiers or investors. As the economy has grown, so has the amount of money we have to manage. This has led to a crisis in the field of finance. The lack of regulation in the sector has resulted in fraud, scams, and mismanagement. This has hindered the economy from reaching its full potential So Finance & Taxation is a treat for those who want to enter corporate life as well as for those who wanted to start a business - irrespective of the sectors.

"Don't worry about failure; you only have to be right once."

-Drew Houston

BREAK THE BIAS

-Abishek.H

Bias, a common epitome of a word we hear since our childhood but never looked in. I would look at it in a philosophical paradigm as a circle connected and glued in with differentiations and judgemental views of certain ideologies. The day we were born we are differentiated as both genders which gives a luminous choice to the human consciousness to choose the best for their benefits as nature calls for itself in a human mind of judgemental values and ideologies which is biased. Then comes the velocity of the ideologies and beliefs that a human follows in his day-to-day life which is highly separated as each being is different, which is then transferred to the born new creature with the biased opinions one follows as it gives certain kinds of benefits which renegades their self-esteem. Eventually when the newborn grows it develops a biased view on certain indefinite good and bad themes in their minds without even knowing its conceptuality without the right to choose. Then comes the benefits. As human values are highly dependent on majorities, the minorities are often ignored with biased opinions. Why do people always tend to look good in a highly definite shape and bad in an indefinite shape? Who framed the philosophical ideas of which is good and which is bad? Who terms the proposition of behavioral views for each gender? Which God should we believe in? Why do we don't learn about specifics as a child? The answer to all the above questions is the behavioral shift due to the biased state of ideologies that are being implemented on us without our consciousness. Consciousness is gained through supreme knowledge of things revolving around us through self-realization of the life and the universe we live in.

So, to break the bias, we have to gain consciousness through self-realization but yet it's a hell of a task as human behavior is highly dependent on social beings as their only source of absorption. So according to the philosophical idea of my consciousness, it is impossible to break the bias but it is possible to ignore the biased judgemental values with the Unapproved state of mind as our human consciousness is still not exposed to the vantage view of such paradigm.
