Detailed report of the program:

The virtual webinar on “Career Guidance & Jobs of the Future” was held in an online mode via Google Meet on 17th June, 2021, organized by The Department of Biotechnology, D.G. Vaishnav College. The welcome address was delivered by Ms. Keerthana S, student, II-B.Sc Biotechnology. The guest speaker was introduced by Ms. Harsha M, student, I-B.Sc Biotechnology. The participants for the webinar included undergraduate students, postgraduate students, research scholars and faculties from various colleges all over the country.

The guest speaker, Mr. Kavin Chandrasekaran commenced the session with a discussion on how to proceed with applying for Masters Degree in other countries and how to choose the right course. He shared his personal experience regarding the same. He advised the participants to learn the native language of the country where they plan to study in future. He also explained the procedure to look for different universities online and effectively approach recruiters.

He highlighted the need to understand that failure is just a part of success and motivated the participants to learn from their mistakes. Towards the end of the session, the speaker answered the questions from the participant’s about higher studies, consultancy, research and job opportunities abroad. The guest speaker concluded by informing the participants to approach him for any other guidance related to career abroad.

The session ended with the vote of thanks by Keerthana K, student, III-B.Sc Biotechnology, who expressed gratitude towards the College Management, Secretary- Shri Ashok Kumar Mundhra, Principal- Dr. S. Santhosh Baboo and Head (i/c) Department of Biotechnology- Dr. M.D. BalaKumaran, resource person, faculties and participants. The entire webinar was live-streamed on the Department YouTube Channel. The feedback link for the participants was shared by the end of the session in the GMeet and YouTube chat box.

POST GRADUATE AND RESEARCH DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS

DEPARTMENT ACTIVITIES 2021-2022

A Three day workshop on “Open board, Smart Notebook and Microsoft Math

Report

Post Graduate and Research Department of Mathematics, DG Vaishnav College, Organized a three day workshop on “Open board, Smart Notebook and Microsoft Math from 14th June 2021 to 16th June 2021 to enhance the virtual teaching and interactive lessons.

On 14th June 2021 Mr. Ganesh, Graduate teacher in Mathematics, PUM school, Thiruvavur District, enlightened about the Open Board Techniques. open board is an open source cross-platform teaching software for interactive whiteboard designed primarily for use in schools and universities. He demonstrated and explained the techniques used in Open Board.

On the second day Mrs. S. Bhagavathy, Graduate teacher in Mathematics, S.M. Govt HR. Sec. School, Thiruchendur, Thoothikudi District, explicated about the SMART notebook techniques. She explained that in SMART Notebook software, we can create notebook files that include graphics, text, tables, lines, shapes, animations and more.

On the third day Mrs. Vallikumari,, Graduate teacher in Mathematics, Govt. Hr. Sec. School, Alangulam, Thenkasi District, explained about the Microsoft Math Techniques. She also explained how to Present our file and keep our class’s attention as we move and interact with the objects. She also gave the visualization of the 2D and 3 D objects.

More than 100 delegates from various state across the country were participated. They expressed their gratitude to organizers for organizing this workshop.

Report:

The Department of Biotechnology offered a skill-based training program (I) on “Network Pharmacology Databases” to the interested students of III UG and PG Biotechnology for the academic year 2020-2021. Mrs. G. Shoba, Faculty, Department of Biotechnology, Dwaraka Doss Goverdhan Doss Vaishnav College, Chennai served as the resource person for the entire program. The course was conducted between 12.06.2021 and 17.06.2021; two hours of classes were scheduled everyday and the training was completed in a time duration of 15 hours.

The practical training comprised of appropriate guidance to carry out research using various tools and software in bioinformatics. The content of the module included knowledge impartment on ethnobotanical databases, UNIPROT, binding and string databases. Before the commencement of the training, the students were instructed to choose the medicinal plant they would like to work on during the training process. They experienced virtual hands-on practice sessions wherein they were able to perform the skill and clear their doubts via the Google Meet platform.

This skill-based training program (I) on “Network Pharmacology Databases” helped the students to acquire and relate the available biomedical data efficiently and establish compound/protein/gene/diseases network which aided in additional skill development apart from academic curriculum. Feedback was collected from the students via Google form and the overall quality and rating of course was marked to be excellent based on it.

Outcome of the event:

1. The students discovered the significance of network pharmacology.
2. The students were able to understand the importance of bioinformatics tools and gain the necessary skill for better research.
3. They were able to learn and explore medicinal drugs and their pathways.

- Orient the Post Graduates, M.Phil and Ph.D Scholars on the nuances of research in Commerce & Social Science
- Highlight the need and importance of research in Commerce
- Create a passion of research & Kick start the Process of Project Report Preparation.

Detailed Report of the Program:

The webinar was organised on 13th March 2021 at 9am on the topic “Research in Commerce and Social Sciences”. At the outset Dr. R. Sundari Assistant Professor of Commerce Department welcomed the gathering and introduced the Resource Person for the programme, Dr. J. Jayasankar Head, Department of Commerce and briefed the sessions planned for the conduct of the webinar series. The session started with the sub topic factors (subjective and objective factors) responsible for the presentation of project work. Sir, highlighted the relevance of scaling techniques while preparing a questionnaire. He focused on the inter relation between academic research and business research, and suggested sample and population size should be large to enhance the accuracy of the research work. Further, he mentioned that the lack of coordination between academic research and business research as a challenge to take up social science research to higher levels. He discussed about technological progress of the country and the benefits reached in education, health, insurance, marketing and other fields of life. He pointed out that advantages of online marketing, online education, online tax registration etc. He compared and contrasted the distinction between academic and business research. Then he shifted over to problems experienced by the researcher in social science by quoting few examples.

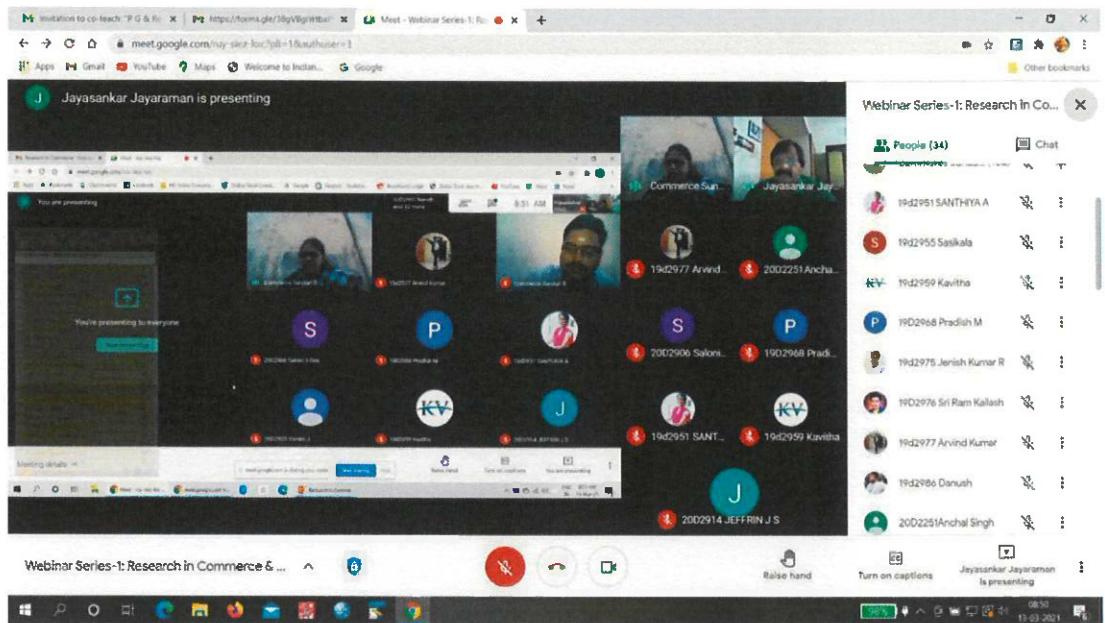

Participants were actively interacted and clarified their doubts in the session. The session was very lively and enjoyable. The programme came to an end with vote of thanks proposed by Dr. A. G. Vijayanarayanan Assistant Professor. He thanked the chief guest of the day for sparing his valuable and precious time to attend his webinar programme.

Learning Outcome:

- Subjective and objective research
- Importance of scaling techniques while preparing the questionnaire
- Inter relation between academic research and business research.
- Sample and population size
- Technological progress of the country and the impact of the same on education, health, insurance, marketing and other fields of life.
- Challenges to Academic Research and the means to overcome the same.

Webinar Series-1: Research in Commerce & Social Sciences

Subjective Concepts but Objective Analysis required
 Most of the problems researched in HR and Marketing are subjective in nature – job satisfaction, motivation, attitude, stress, labour turnover, consumer satisfaction, media influence, brand preference etc. may be cited as examples. The data collected qualitatively needs to be converted into quantitative form. Only then statistical analysis can be possible. It is for this reason scaling techniques are used while drafting the questionnaire that allow assignment of numerical values to the responses.

Problem of numerous influencing variables
 There are hundreds of variables that influence a particular phenomenon. For example, job satisfaction is the result of several independent variables. No research study on job satisfaction may consider all these variables at a time due to several constraints. A study based on fewer variables may not give accurate results. Moreover, it is not possible to remove or isolate the influence of those variables not forming part of the study. This, therefore, becomes a limitation of every study.

Problem associated with Sample Study
 It is not possible for the researcher to consider all the units of the population in his study. He, therefore, resorts to a sample study to draw inferences about the population. Here, what is important is that the sample chosen by the researcher must not only be adequate but also be representative of the universe. In a study on brand preference with reference to iPhones amongst the youth population of Chennai, a sample size of 500 or 1000 may not be considered to be adequate when the youth population of Chennai is around 25 lakhs. Again if a convenient sample approach is used, the sample may not be representative of the youth of Chennai. The youth population is not homogeneous but heterogeneous. Therefore, clusters need to be created and samples must be drawn from each cluster. Only then the sample will be representative of the youth of Chennai.

Webinar Series-1: Research in Commerce & Social Sciences

Lack of Industry-Academia Co-ordination
 The need of the hour is industry academia tie-up in research endeavours. The findings of a research project shall be capable of being applied in some industry or in some work place. This alone would increase the utility value of any research endeavour in Commerce. This, unfortunately, is lacking now.

Influence of Government Policies
 Finally, change in Government Policies from time to time may also render the findings of a research study in Commerce irrelevant. For example, Privatization and Globalization of business has necessitated the abolition of the MRTP Act and the introduction of the Competition Act. Introduction of the GST has rendered studies relating to Excise Duty, VAT etc. redundant.

Academic Research vs. Business Research
 Business research is result oriented always. The R&D Dept. conducts research continuously with the idea of evolving a new concept, a new product or service or a marketing strategy. Academic research, on the other hand, gives utmost importance to methodology of research – formulating hypothesis, deciding on the nature of the sample, the sample size, the nature of data required, the method of data collection, understanding the study limitations, deciding on the tools for statistical analysis and so on.

Academic research is based on literature review that helps to identify the research gap whereas business research is based on the actual problems the business faces in its operations.

The audience for the academic research is the general public whereas the audience for business research is the top management.

Anyone can access the thesis which is the outcome of an academic research. The details of the outcomes of business research are kept confidential.

11. Detailed Report of the Programme :

The Department of Botany of D.G. Vaishnav College, Arumbakkam, Chennai -106, for the first time initiated and organized a two days Skill development training programme on “The Art of Bonsai Making” under the support of College with Potential for Excellence on 9th and 10th March 2021. The College Principal Dr. S. Santhosh Baboo inaugurated the training programme and spoke about the role of students particularly Botany students in the development of a green and healthy environment. Dr.R. Muralidharan Head; Dept. of Botany gave the welcome address and insisted on the critical need for quality skill development and training for the students. He also introduced the Resource person G. Raja who is the Trainer of the Programme. The students had hands on training and they were thrilled by making Bonsai on their own. The programme was organized by Dr. R. Rajarajan, Asst. Professor, Dept. of Botany. Faculty of the Department Dr. P. Ezhumalai, Mr. M. Vasanth and Dr. S.Anantha Padmanabhan were the team members supporting the training programme to make it a grand success. The programme ended with the distribution of certificates to the participants.

12. Outcome of the programme/event

The training programme created awareness on Bonsai plants among the students and they learned different styles of bonsai making. Students were able to hone their entrepreneurship skills that would help them to form a successful career.

Report of the Programme:

The Department of Corporate Secretaryship (Day & Evening), D. G. Vaishnav College, Chennai hosted a Webinar on “Graphical Portrayal of Company Financials” as the third part of the Ability Enhancement Series. Dr. PrabhaRajagopalan, Head of the Department of Corporate Secretaryship (Day) and Dr. K. Kalpana Devi, Head-in-Charge (Evening) envisioned the concept of the Ability Enhancement Series – Lecture 3 to culminate the Series with a highly pertinent concept in Research and Analysis.

The session was dedicated to the concepts of collection of data from various sources, tabulation as per the objectives of the research study and pictorial /graphical presentation in the preparation of the project report. However, the crux of the programme was to bring about a clear understanding of the use of various statistical tools for preparing charts to highlight the objectives and findings of research studies.. Instructions regarding the intricacies of creating pictorial representation were laid bare to the participants which created an awareness about the presentation of statistical data through pictorial and graphical presentation.

Report of the Programme:

The Department of Corporate Secretaryship (Day & Evening), D. G. Vaishnav College, Chennai was instrumental in organizing the Webinar on “Company Financial Parameters for assessment of Company Performance” as the Second part of the Ability Enhancement Series on 4th March 2021. The Proposal for conducting the webinar was mooted by Dr. PrabhaRajagopalan, Head of the Department of Corporate Secretaryship (Day) and Dr. K. Kalpana Devi, Head-in-Charge (Evening).

,Mr Prem Kumar discussed in great detail the Statistical Analysis required in Research and preparation of Project Report for the clear understanding of the participants in an endeavor to improve the project report presentation technicalities and skills. He further explained about Trend Analysis outlining the means to summarize long term data and to investigate variability over a specific time period which helped the students as well as participants to prepare institutional training report.

The image is a screenshot of a Zoom webinar. On the left, there is a small video window showing a man with a mustache and glasses, identified as 'Prof Premkumar D'. The main part of the screen displays a Microsoft PowerPoint slide. The slide has a white background with red and black text. The title is 'STATISTICAL ANALYSIS FOR PREPARING INSTITUTIONAL TRAINING REPORT'. Below the title, it says 'By Premkumar.D, Assistant professor, Department of Corporate Secretaryship Shift - I, D.G.Vaishnav College'. The top right corner of the slide area says 'Powered by StreamYard'. The bottom of the screen shows the Zoom interface with a 'Join Meeting' button and a system tray with various icons.

REPORT:

The department of Finance and taxation organised a career guidance session in the broad area of Finance. The session commenced with welcome address by the Head of the Department and followed by introduction of the speaker Ms. Sathya. According to the resource person, the role of finance is central to carrying out the development and growth activities of an economy. She compiled a list of career options after finance degree to help students to understand the industry requirements. Ms. Sathya opined that the students can also work for a few years and then specialize in a particular field. Opting for Internships and industry visit can provide a significant head start, presenting several opportunities for learning and networking. Senior-level finance jobs would require the students to combine their professional insight with technical expertise and managerial skills. MBA (Finance) and MS (Finance) are two of the most sought-after courses for aspirants in this domain. Moreover, there are several certifications for those who want to uphold a standard of practice in their professional career. These include Association of Certified Chartered Accountants (ACCA), Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA), Chartered Public Accountant (CPA), Certified Financial Planner (CFP), Financial Risk Manager (FRM) certification, and others. With this perspective, she motivated the students to move on to some distinguished career options after finance degree and delve into the job specifications, required qualifications and desired skill sets. The students actively participated throughout the session and clarified all the queries with the speaker.

OUTCOME OF THE EVENT

- The orientation session was helpful to the students
- To build better confidence and insight with regard to taking career related decisions
- To induce improved focus through proper time management, scheduling and planning.
- To provide access to resources and knowledge available in the current scenario.
- To overcome the hurdles in their career path

8. DETAILED REPORT OF THE PROGRAM:

The PG & Research Department of Economics (Shift-I) organised a workshop on Urban Terrace Gardening “Terrain to Terrace” on 20th February 2021. About 40 final UG students along with Hod Dr.T.S.Prema and 10 Faculty visited the Terrace Garden at Valsaravakkam Chennai. A Bus was arranged to transport the students. The students wore masks, and social distancing norms were followed. The workshop started at 10.00 am until 11.30 am, after which the students were transported safely back to college. Dr.S.Latha was the co-ordinator for the workshop. Mrs.Sripriya Ganesh - a farmepreneur conducted the workshop on her private terrace where she has created her own garden. She gave a live demo on soil preparation and compost from house hold waste and preparing organic pesticides, using neem leaves, ginger, and turmeric water. She explained various methods for maintaining a good garden. The students were taken around the garden, and explained about each variety of plants. There was a good collection of vegetables, fruits, flowering plants, and medicinal herbs. She explained the benefits of gardening as a hobby - how it relieves stress for individuals and also about the benefits to the environment. She also talked about the numerous business opportunities, that gardening offers in the form of selling garden materials, selling natural compost and also supplying organic vegetables and fruits to nearby markets. We express our sincere thanks to Secretary Shri Ashok Kumar Mundhraj and our Principal Dr.Capt.Santhosh Baboo for permitting our students and faculty to attend this live workshop, and providing us the necessary funds for smooth conduct of the programme.

11. Detailed Report of the Programme :

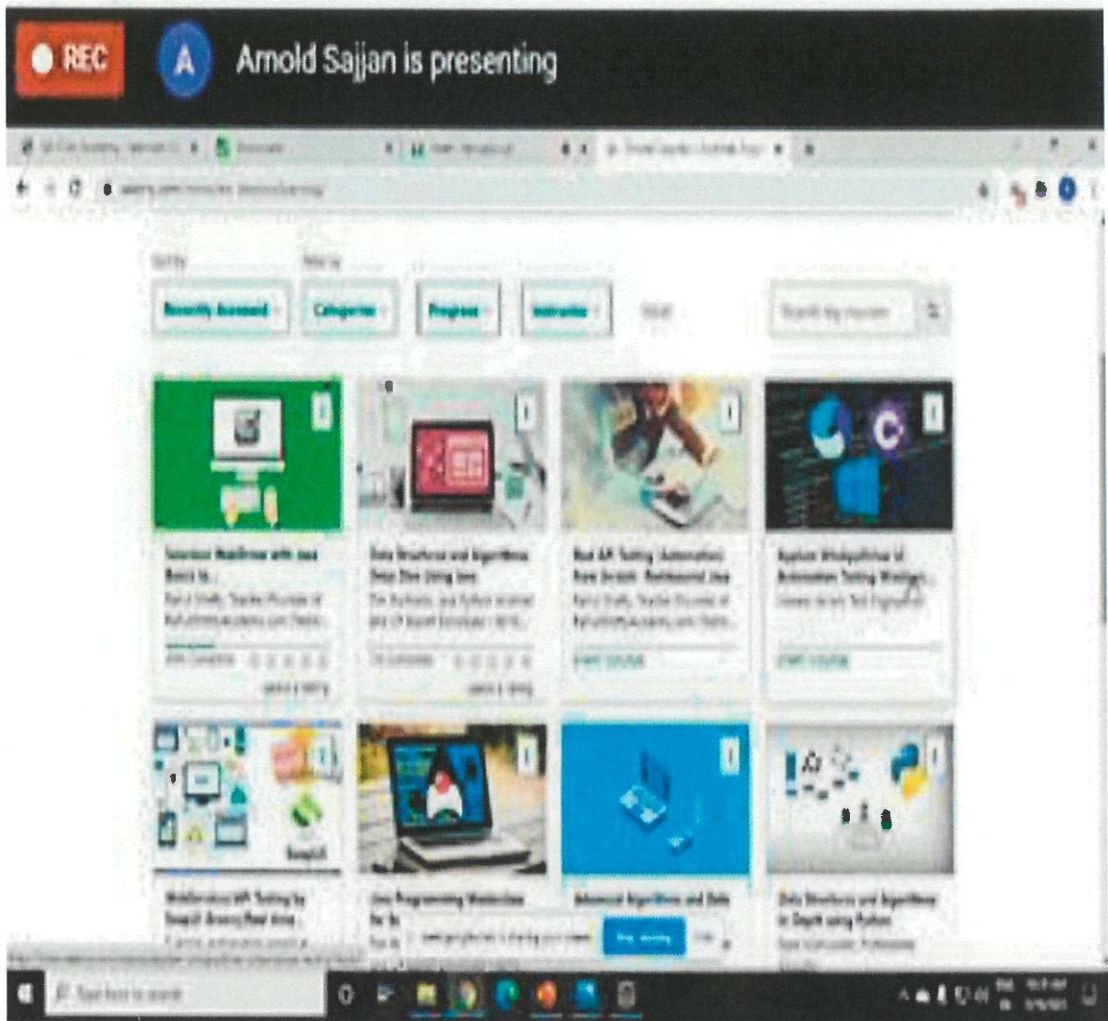

Objective of the Seminar was to facilitate the participants to get cognizance of the concepts of Automation Framework along with real time execution of testing a software for knowledge gain for PG students, the session started at 09:30 AM by welcoming the resource person.

The seminar provided us an insight about Automation testing and related technologies. Initially the seminar was started with basic information about Automation and the benefits of automation testing over manual testing. Later on interactive practicals were demonstrated like how to test the software by using automation tools like selenium. The topics of the Seminar were used currently in the industries. The students were made familiar with different types of testing mechanisms available for testing the software. The Seminar comprised of active participation of students. The students enthusiastically indulged themselves in interacting with the resource persons. The PPTs were presented with live demo of codes. The resource person extended appreciations for the same and recommendations were made when needed.

12. Outcome of the programme/event : The students of the department will be immensely benefited to know from the expert how to tune themselves for the Automation Testing.

Report:

The International Web Conference on Advances in Biotechnology-Gene Technology, (ICAB 2021) was organized by the Department of Biotechnology, D.G Vaishnav College, Chennai on 17th and 18th February 2021. The Chief Patron of this Conference was Shri. Ashok Kumar Mundhra, Secretary, D. G Vaishnav College, Patron- Dr. Santhosh Baboo, Principal, D.G Vaishnav College, Convener Dr. M.D. Balakumaran, Head (i/c), Organizing Secretaries Dr. Pavithra M and Dr. A. Sivaranjini, the staff members of the Biotechnology department served as organizing members and Student co-ordinators S. Jeeva, R. Srilakshmi from II M.Sc., Biotechnology.

The major aim of the proposed conference is to bring together various expertise under one roof to share and discuss the current and future development of biotechnology in different trust areas for the benefit of students, especially the budding life science graduates. The theme of the conference included Gene technology, Recent trends in Plant biotechnology Green technology, Microbial gene technology, Environmental biotechnology, Plant biotechnology, Nanotechnology and Bioinformatics.

On Day 1 (17.02.2021), the Inaugural session was held in Dwaraka Auditorium, D.G Vaishnav College. Blessings of Almighty is always the integral part of our life. The Session started with invocation by Tamil thaaai vaazhthu and college prayer. Light is the bliss of the world! The Kuthuvilakku was lit by respected Principal Dr. Santhosh Baboo, Dr. M.D. Balakumaran, Head Biotechnology, Organizing Secretaries and Student Co-ordinators. Convener, Dr. M.D. Balakumaran welcomed the gathering, Dr. A. Sivaranjini presented the theme of the conference. The Chief Guest for the inaugural session, Prof. Mathivanan, Registrar (i/c), University of Madras, motivated the audience with his marvelous speech and enthusiastic words. His remarkable speech about the need of advances in research in biotechnology and gene technology inspired the participants of the conference. The Conference proceedings with ISBN was released in the form of CD by the Principal of D.G Vaishnav College, Dr. S. Santhosh Baboo, and he gave an interesting speech which highlighted the importance of biotechnology and the innovations in genetic research. The department newsletter was released in the inaugural function by respected principal Dr. Santhosh Baboo. The newsletter consisted of the MoU signed by the Department of Biotechnology, the events organized, the achievements and awards of the faculty members, Doodles presented by students in Technosaviour events and poems. This release of newsletter was a compilation of achievements which encouraged the faculties and students to do more. The Day 1 lecture sessions were led by the following eminent speakers: Dr. Suresh Kumar Assistant Professor, ARBA MINCH University, Ethiopia spoke about “The Use of Invertebrate model organisms in Genetic and Toxicological Research”, Dr. Arun Meyyazhagan Chief and Director, EuroEspes Biomedical Research Centre, Corunna, Spain, discussed the Basic Concepts and Biomarkers and Cytogenetics in Alzheimer and Parkinson diseases: Dr. S. Jagannathan, Assistant Research Officer, TCARV production laboratory, Pasteur Institute of India, Coonoor, The Nilgiris Genetic Engineering Techniques in Vaccine Development. On day 2, Dr. Balamuralikrishnan, Assistant Professor, Department of Food Science and Biotechnology, College of Life Science, Sejong University, Seoul, South Korea gave an insight on the Impacts of Mycotoxin in Livestock agriculture and the Feed additives in Livestock Industry. Dr. Ashwini Malla Postdoctoral Fellow Chulalongkorn University Bangkok, Thailand, conferred the Advances in Genetic Engineering Methods for Expression of Biologics. Dr. Kumar Saurav, Scientist, Centrum ALGATECH Czech Republic had thrown light on the blue green world of natural products which included the quorum sensing of cyanobacteria. Following the lecture sessions on Day 1 and Day 2, the e-posters and oral presentations were conducted parallelly with internal and external judges. 50 oral presentations and 25 e-posters were evaluated by the judges and selected for prizes.

The Chief Guest for the Valedictory session, Dr. Elumalai, Prof. & Head, Department of Biotechnology, University of Madras, inspired the audience with his spectacular speech and passionate words. His remarkable speech about the need of advances in research in biotechnology and gene technology inspired the participants of the conference. With great team work and blessings of Almighty, this conference has been a successful event.

Program Outcome:

- Over 280 participants from various institutions participated in this event. About 50 oral presentations and 25 e-posters were presented by the participants.
- The lecture sessions were very informative and the participants actively took part in the discussion sessions.

make the session more interesting and engaging, he shared a story of Chinese Warrior to explain the nitty-gritty of talent. He came up with the findings of a study on talent and revealed a less known fact. The problem currently is, most people fail in discovering their talent at the earlier stages, the possible solution to excel in life is to discover one's talent at earliest possible and to practice regularly. Deep and deliberate practice will fetch the desired results. In addition to talent, values also plays important role in one's life and both should go hand in gloves. After his presentation students actively participated in the discussion session.

Outcomes of the Event:

Students got knowledge about main qualities of talent development.

Students also came to know the importance of values

Students could identify the interrelation between values and talent department has organized national level webinar series Nurturing global competencies in STEM under the banner of Triple Helix Science Club. Our Science Club is the registered Bronze Club under Vigyan Prasar, DST, Govt. of India. The department organised a panel discussion Women in STEM-Empowering Diversity in Science.

The members of the panel discussion are

- Dr. R V Bhavani, Consultant FAO, Bangladesh.
- Dr. V. Madhurima, Professor, Department of Physics, Central University of Tamilnadu, Thiruvaroor.
- Dr. Anupma Harshal, Consultant, Science Communication and Public Engagement, Manav Human Atlas Initiative IISER, Pune.
- Dr. Kamatchi Sankaranarayan, Assistant Professor, Institute of Advance study in Science and Technology, Guwahati, Assam

They shared their knowledge highlighting Women in STEM, leadership positions across research, academia and administration. The panelists threw light upon bystander training, circle of care and cooperative learning. The speakers discussed about leaky pipeline for women in STEM and lack of opportunities for women. They also motivated the students to excel in their career and take care of their circle of partners. Women at different stages of their individual careers were encouraged to inform each other about their career progress, and together explore opportunities, in professional development and in research or teaching horizons.

12. Outcome of the programme/event

The students were able to connect STEM ideas with life. All the three years of undergraduate Students of Physics Department of our College and students from other colleges in the country participated in the webinar enthusiastically. The session was highly interactive.

Detailed report of the program:

The virtual webinar on “Fundamentals of Research Writing and Manuscript Publication” was held in an online mode via Google Meet on 30th January, 2021, organized by The Department of Biotechnology, D.G. Vaishnav College. The welcome address was delivered by Ms. Keerthana K, student, III-B.Sc Biotechnology. The guest speaker was introduced by Ms. Indra K, student, III B.Sc Biotechnology. The participants for the webinar included undergraduate students, postgraduate students and faculties from D.G. Vaishnav College and other colleges.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Geetha Venkatramani commenced the session by exchanging her views on the basics of manuscript publication followed by sharing her perspective on research writing. She discussed the key points to be considered while writing a research manuscript. She guided the participants through the different stages involved in publication processing while highlighting the editorial and publishing phase.

She highlighted the need to ensure manuscript authenticity, advised the participants to emphasize on abstract title and structure, quote their key findings in the abstracts, write the results in sub-sections, avoid self citations, include conclusion of the work and their contribution towards the field. She also described the key areas of language to be focused while writing a paper as incorrect grammar can be one the main reasons behind rejection of papers. The guest speaker concluded by informing the participants to approach her with queries related to research writing and manuscript publication.

The lecture ended with the vote of thanks by Vidhyalakshmi S, student, III-B.Sc Biotechnology, who expressed gratitude towards the College Management, Secretary- Shri Ashok Kumar Mundhra, Principal- Dr. S. Santhosh Baboo and Head (i/c) Department of Biotechnology- Dr. M.D. BalaKumaran, guests, staffs and students. The entire webinar was live-streamed on the Department YouTube Channel. The feedback link for the participants was shared by the end of the session in the GMeet and YouTube chat box.

REPORT:

The Department of Finance and Taxation organized an Invited talk on the topic 'PLAN TO PRIORITIZE', to throw light on proper time management and scheduling for the students, with specific reference to exam preparation. The speaker highlighted the fact that managing time is the strategy of planning out our available time and controlling the amount of time we spend on specific tasks in order to work more efficiently. It was also mentioned that effective time management comes easier those people who plan their day and activities well in advance and thereby everyone can develop habits to improve their time management skills. The students interacted with the resource person and shared their experience and queries with respect to the topic at the end of the session.

OUTCOME:

- Becomes more organized as a result of effective Time Management.
- Boost the students' morale and makes him confident.
- Enable the students to realize their goals and objectives within the shortest possible time span
- Helps in better planning of their academic schedules and eventually perform better in their examinations
- Accomplish tasks on time, thereby reducing stress and anxiety.

The Virtual tour comprises of two parts in which first part dealt with History of Yakult Probiotic and FAQs about probiotics whereas the second part dealt with Factory tour. In Virtual Factory tour, various processes and instrumentations related to the production of probiotic from processing raw materials to packaging and storage was showed to Students and Faculty members.

Both the Sessions had Question and Answer bout which was followed by Vote of Thanks given by Dr. R. Ashwini, Assistant Professor, Department of Biotechnology. The feedback link for the event was posted in G meet chat for first session and Microsoft chat for second session to the participants. The feedback obtained was positive and encouraging.

Program outcome:

- The Online Industry – Academia Workshop was highly informative and useful to the students.
- The first session educate students with the importance of microbes in maintaining gut health, role of natural fermented foods and the necessity for probiotics in present world.
- The second session introduced and informed students about the actual processes involved in producing probiotic from raw material processing to quality check, packaging and storage.
- Students were provided with a knowledgeable new experience on visiting a factory environment virtually.

Report of the Programme:

The Proposal for conducting the webinar was decided by Dr. Prabha Rajagopalan, Head of the Department of Corporate Secretaryship (Day) and Dr. K. Kalpana Devi, Head-in-Charge(Evening). Mr. M. Balaji, Assistant Professor (Day) and Dr. G. Yamuna, Assistant Professor (Evening) acted as the faculty coordinators for the webinar.

The topic of the webinar is relevant in the current scenario as every business enterprise automates its operations to streamline processing of information across the entire organisation. He pointed out that it is imperative on the part of educational institutions to impart knowledge on ERP and its application in businesses to the students who would emerge as future professionals

Shri S. Ramgopal, briefed upon the usage of ERP business software like SAP ECC, SAP S4 Hana, APO Ariba, ERPNext etc., which are specially designed to ensure seamless integration of all the information flows in a company namely financial, accounting, human resources, supply chain and the customer. He drew attention of the participants by citing examples of business houses which implemented ERP systems thereby attained better management, cost effectiveness, increase in efficiency and productivity resulting in higher revenues.

Further, it facilitated the participants to interact with the working professionals and draw the differences between Artificial Intelligence and Machine learning as well as ERP software and multiple software applications.

DDGD Vaishnav School of Management organized a 5 day Placement Training program virtually to the current II year (2019-21) batch students from November 16th to 21st, 2020. The training was provided by APT Training Services. Students were trained on Quantitative Aptitude, Verbal & Logical Reasoning and English Language. Students were also prepared on Group Discussion and Interview skills. In continuation of it, there was also a direct placement training session on 4th and 5th January, 2021 in the department for both first and second year students. Overall the students benefited from the training Session which would help them to perform better in future placement process.
