DETAILED REPORT OF THE SEMINAR:

The DDGDVC Department of English, Shift II conducted a Seminar on the topic “Communication for the Digital Age” on 28th December 2021 from 10.45 am to 12.25 pm with the resource person Dr. V. Saravanan, Founder & Coordinator (WELLTA) and Assistant professor (Senior), VIT - Vellore. The seminar was conducted with an objective to help students understand the importance of developing their communication skills in the Digital Era and how it would positively impact their lives and career. Good communication skills gives students a massive advantage over their peers in today’s competitive job market. In order to help students achieve this end, a Seminar was planned and organised by Dr. K.K. Lakshmi - Head, Department of English (Shift-II), DDGDVC who was also the convenor of the event. More than one hundred and fifty students and thirty two faculty members enthusiastically attended this interactive seminar which was held at Vallabacharya Auditorium, DDGDVC campus.

Dr. Santhosh Babu, Principal, DDGDVC graced the occasion with his presence. He appreciated the relevance of the seminar’s theme which he felt was pertinent and much needed in today’s world. The principal highlighted the importance and significance of communication skills and revealed his plans for opening a Language lab in the upcoming months.

The resource person Dr. V. Saravanan began the highly energetic session by interacting with the students directly and getting their opinions on various aspects of communication and the purpose of communication. By intermingling with the students, he brought out the importance of clarity in communication and how communication without clarity was as good as no communication. He asserted the fact that many people have made successful careers out of their communication skills in this digital age through various social media outlets and thus emphasised the necessity of improving one's communication skills, especially in this pandemic era.

He pointed out the significance of improving LSRW skills in enhancing one's communication. He continuously stressed the significance of reading and how it would enhance their speaking and writing skills. Dr. Saravanan pointed out that "Today's learners are tomorrow's Leaders" and how our thoughts, words, deeds and habits form our character. Our character is what determines our destiny and therefore it is imperative to prune ourselves accordingly. He concluded by telling the students that information is knowledge and knowledge is power. Thus it is up to each individual to empower themselves.

OUTCOME OF THE SEMINAR:

The programme was a glowing success with numerous students spontaneously and energetically interacting with the resource person throughout the session. The students were made to realise the essentiality of having good communication skills, particularly in the English language as Dr. Saravanan pointed out how English was the most widely spoken language across all continents, and how mastering the language would help them reach out to millions of people throughout the globe. He made students understand that independent thinking and freewill are given to all of us and how they should utilise them properly to achieve success. Dr.Saravanan inspired the students to rise as leaders and not become victims of their circumstances.

The workshop was conducted with an objective to help students understand that developing their communication skills would be the golden key that opens the door to their professional success and a fruitful employment. Good communication skills gives students a massive advantage over their peers in the job market. In order to help students achieve this, a workshop was planned and organised by Dr. K.K. Lakshmi -Head, Department of English (Shift-II), DGVC who was also the convenor of the event. More than eighty two students and seventeen faculty members enthusiastically attended the webinar, which was conducted through Google Meet.

The resource person began this highly interactive session by asserting the importance of communication in order to achieve success. By interacting with the students, she brought out their underlying insecurities with regard to communication, and alleviated their fears by assuring them that language was an imbibed skill and that anyone could master it if they had the attitude, aptitude and the mental strength to learn. She pointed out the significance of improving LSRW skills in enhancing one’s communication, which in turn would boost their self-confidence. This confidence would then help them fare better in the job market, giving them an edge over their peers. Mrs. Lalitha pointed out the persuasive power of good communication, citing examples from both mythology as well as drawing from her own vast and varied experience in teaching. At the end of the program, the students shared their feedback and certificates were issued to all the participants.

Outcome:

The programme was an astounding success with numerous students spontaneously sharing their positive and glowing reviews about the workshop. Many of them requested for more such programs in the future and felt that they gained a lot from this session. Some of the students even put forth their suggestions for future topics. The students were made to realise the essentiality of having good communication as Ms.Lalitha humourously pointed out a few examples of bad communication. She made them understand that communication was a gateway to employability and it ensures better grasp of their core subjects as well thus ensuring their success in their chosen field, whatever it may be.

Introduction given by Prof. N.C. Martin about the topic: -

Introduction to the “Cognitive Intervention: A Needed HR Skill” was delivered by Dr.N.C. Martin. He started the session with a brief introduction on the webinar topic. He started with explaining what a cognitive skill is. Cognitive skills are one of the very important skill where our brain use to think, read, remember, reasoning and also make us to pay attention for every task we do and perform. The process of receiving information will start from the brain and it takes the information we receive and it moves into the bank of knowledge that we use in every walks of life.

Cognitive skills, or cognitive abilities, are the ways that your brain remembers reasons, holds attention, solves problems, thinks, reads and learns. Your cognitive abilities help you process new information by taking that information and distributing it into the appropriate areas in your brain.

Other necessary skill for HR is the Intuition skill, which helps to determine the potential and quality of interpersonal relationships. These skills will help to determine the attributes, traits and also the latest characteristics of new incumbents that help to understand how the new employees can fit into organization culture. Intuition will help the HR staff in right selection of employees.

Other necessary skills for HR staff are Logic and reasoning skills. This skill is very important in conducting investigation and conducting interviews. The decisions you make at work are important. They can often mean the difference between success and failure. A process, such as logical reasoning, can help you make an informed choice. Reasoning skills are very important for negotiation.

Another important skill is multi-tasking. Multitasking entails juggling different work activities and shifting attention from one task to another. Ideally, an employee will be able to meet the demands of several different stakeholders without dropping the ball. Success of an organization depends on how an hr strategies his plan in the long run.

GIST OF THE WEBINAR: -

Mr. Ramamurthy Krishna started the session by mentioning the three parts of break.

- Security Office
- Operations and Quality Control
- Chief Operating Officer
- Chief Executive Officer

How these four departments function together and where is the focus at any given point of time. What is the importance of focus on cognitive wellness? How does the focus improve productivity and how does the focus also improve psychological wellness.

Where is our Challenge?

Focus – 84%

We are more internally distracted as much as we are externally distracted. Here he discussed about Internal distractions, what does it do to psychological wellness, productivity, to safety, and how can we regain more safe and stable ground by changing our focus.

Thinking Challenge- 5%

Can be categorized into: Fixed Mindset, Growth Mindset, Positive Mindset and Less positive Mindset

Deceptive Brain Messages- 30%

Deceptive brain signal is where big time challenge lies and it comes from our thinking which in turn comes from focus which can be both internal focus and external focus.

Emotions- 50%

Deceptive brain signals majorly drives emotions. And when the emotions are stronger, the focus is much more internal than external.

Fawning and Freezing -65%

Understanding people responses type and what seems to cause deceptive brain signals driving emotions is individuals a more skilled in forming response and freezing response.

What does thinking challenge do us?

1. Neuroception

It's not about perception anymore it's about Neuroception. Neuroception means the nervous system scanning for threat signals all the time and what does it do.

2. Focus

We tend to focus more for what we have learned before, we call it comfort zone. To come out of comfort zone into the learning zone then your nervous system is going to perceive threat and the moment it perceives threat, it tries to go back into the comfort zone.

3. Inhibition

Our inability to inhibit the deceptive brain signals. Brain is all the time sending signals to protect us from threats and danger supported by the nervous system. The data from the brain is transmitted by the nervous system and carries information throughout the body and 80% of information goes from body to brain and 20% of information comes from brain to body. The 80% of information is important for psychological and physical wellness.

4. Dominant emotions

Dominant emotions comes from having not inhibited emotions and reappraise the emotions, relabeling our memory, we take that for granted and never do that. The more we our certain emotions the more we tend to use them again and again.

The story of our nervous systems was explained.

Later he explained about difference between perception and neuroception on which they are based on

Perception	Neuroception
Past experiences	Reality inside
Needs & motives	Story we tell ourself
Personality	Same for all
Value & attribution	Information focus

A task was given in which participants were asked to imagine three different stories based on three different themes. Five minutes were given.

- Sad
- happy
- mad

Completeness of employee engagement was explained by using employee engagement index.

Completeness to employee engagement

- Cognitive
- Emotional
- Behavioral

Questions and Answers

Q-What is fawning?

Fawning is ability to say yes when we are supposed to say no and this where we end up taking a lot of tasks. In simple terms in organizations when managers ask you to do something and you know it cannot be done in such short period of time but you still end up saying yes. The process of focus shifts to stress.

Q-It looks like perception is in our control and neuroception is not in our control is it ?

Perception is in under your control till the time to you are able manage the narratives.

Q-How to improve cognitive abilities?

He used symbol nvr to explain nvr stands for narrative vagal and response. The responses drives vagal and this drives narrative on the other hand the narrative drives vagal tone and that drives the responses so its all about the narratives.

Q-How do we measure the cognitive health of employees? since its something that a person feels?

Emotions starts with narratives and narratives start with what you are exposed to. It depends what story vagal tone collects is it sadness mad or happiness, narratives decide the emotional intelligence.

Q- As a HR, how do we encourage the employees to take up the challenges?

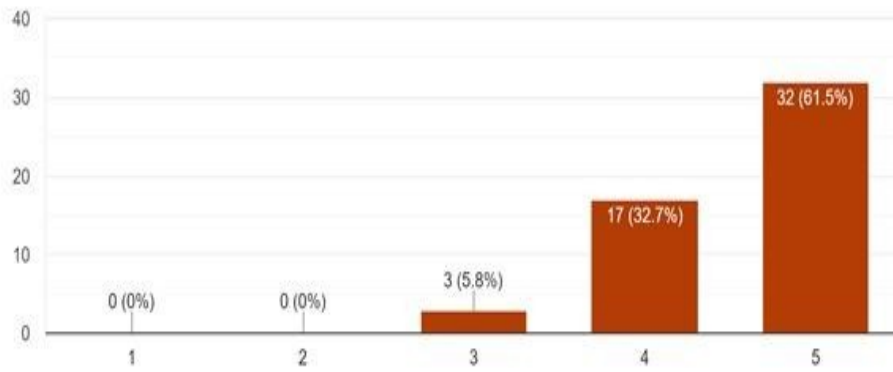

Where does the person stands on the ladder and its not always important to stay on top but its about how you navigate. As we grow we must get comfortable walking on the bridge.

It was a highly informative and Interactive session. All the participants enjoyed the session and gained more knowledge on the topic, everything was crisp and clear. few key takeaways from the session are;

- 1) Pleasing people is called Fawning, and it leaves us growthless.
- 2) Perception: past experiences and it's individualistic.
- 3) Neuroception: reality and it's generic.
- 4) Engagement is about cognition, emotion and behaviour.
- 5) Neuroception and perception are interlinked. It's a cycle.

Advanced sperm selection methods

Zeta potential: Zeta potential is the electrokinetic potential on the surface of particles in a colloidal suspension.

- The membrane of mature human spermatozoa possesses a zeta potential between -16 and -20 mV, which is conferred by a coating of sialic acids during spermatogenesis and epididymal maturation (Ishijima, Okuno, & Mohri, 1991; Kirchhoff & Hale, 1996).
- This negative potential can be used as a biomarker for the selection of mature sperm cells (Simon, Shamsi, & Carrell, 2016)

Counselling falls under the umbrella term 'talking therapies' and allows people to discuss their problems and any difficult feelings they encounter in a safe, confidential environment. The term can mean different things to different people, but in general, it is a process people seek when they want to change something in their lives, or simply explore their thoughts and feelings in more depth.

Wherever there is a physical addiction to a substance or activity - there is likely to be a psychological addiction too. Counselling aims to relieve the psychological addiction by exploring the root cause while helping to develop new ways of thinking.

Mr. Prince shared many of his experiences with his patients during the treatment. The various difficulties and discomforts the counsellor faces during the course of treatment. Additionally, He also briefed the attendees about counselling wherein she included the what and what-nots of counselling and explained few basic qualities a counsellor should possess and threw light upon the process of counselling.

She has three years of experience working in de-addiction and psychiatric hospitals. She also works as a seasonal life skill trainer, career consultant, and mentor. She has worked with a variety of non-governmental organizations, institutions, and forums. She assists students in their personal and professional development.

She conducted a class activity in which students were asked to infer their characters based on the spelling of their names. She advised the students to respect their feelings as well as the emotions of others.

She encouraged us to be original in all phases of life. she explained the emotional state-rejection, physical cause (stress), and biological reason (mensuration) in detail.

She described "Super Women Syndrome" as a woman's desire to be a perfectionist in her attitude, and she will begin self-blaming for the mistakes of others, and she said that a lack of self-awareness leads to self-blaming and poor functioning.

She stated that, in addition to several approaches, observation is critical in casework for understanding the client and establishing rapport with clients. The Counsellor must help his clients realize their strengths and weaknesses. When speaking with the client, the counselor should avoid using negative phrases to learn more about the problem. Instead, they should inquire what caused you to be in that circumstance.

Shelistedvariousemerging therapies for the clients like:

Some of the students expressed concerns about how to interact with reluctant clients and how to deal with the challenges of superwomen syndrome. The speaker clarified all the questions and concluded the session. Mr. Rishikumar's vote of thanks put the session to an end at 1:00 p.m.

The outcome of the Program:

The students learned about mental wellbeing after listening to Mrs. Shantha Panneer Selvam's lecture. It was an awesome platform for all of the students who were present to understand the role of a counselor and how she interacts with clients on the Mental Health Helpline. According to the resource person, a social worker needs to have an accepting attitude toward clients. The session on the Mental Health Helpline is thought-provoking and the majority of the topics she covered are relevant to the discipline of Casework. In addition, the students learned about the Super Women Syndrome, emerging therapies, and she explained the methods of Mental Health Well-being to deal with the Clients.

REPORT OF THE PROGRAMME:

The session on PROTECTION OF CHILDREN FROM SEXUAL OFFENCES ACT, 2012 (POCSO) commenced at 11 AM after the arrival of the resource person and the session started with a welcome address given by Sanjanaa Gopinath of the 1st MSW department.

Mr.S. Padmanaban is an Advocate in Madras High Court and the Founder of Sarvam Trust. He is providing legal counselling and guidance for trafficked victims in vigilance home as a legal consultant for Illayugam Trust.

He has completed his bachelors of commerce in Jaya College of arts and science, MSW from MCC, MA( HR) from Madras University and bachelor of legislative law (LLB) from Sri Venkateswara College of Law, Tirupathi. He has worked as a Project Director in Madras Christian Council of Social Service, Prevention of Trafficking in Women and Children.

He has organized skill-based training for every individual from CMRL Project affected families as a project coordinator in Tamil Nadu Slum Clearance Board.

The resource person briefed on the topic POSCO Act, 2012. The POCSO Act was enacted to protect children from sexual offences. The Act has been enacted to protect children from offences of sexual assault, sexual harassment and pornography and provide for the establishment of Special Courts for the trial of such offences and related matters and incidents. The Act was amended in 2019, to make provisions for the enhancement of punishments for various offences to deter the perpetrators and ensure safety, security and dignified childhood for a child.

The resource person talked about some of the salient features of the act:

- The Act is gender-neutral and regards the best interests and welfare of the child as a matter of paramount importance at every stage to ensure the healthy physical, emotional, intellectual and social development of the child.
- The Act defines a child as any person below eighteen years of age, and regards the best interests and well-being of the child as being of paramount importance at every stage, to ensure the healthy physical, emotional, intellectual and social development of the child.
- It defines different forms of sexual abuse, including penetrative and non-penetrative assault, as well as sexual harassment and pornography, and deems a sexual assault to be “aggravated” under certain circumstances, such as when the abused child is mentally ill or when the abuse is committed by a person in a position of trust or authority vis-à-vis the child, like a family member, police officer, teacher, or doctor.
- People who traffic children for sexual purposes are also punishable under the provisions relating to abetment in the Act. The Act prescribes stringent punishment graded as per the gravity of the offence, with a maximum term of rigorous imprisonment for life, and a fine.

He then displayed 2 cases he had handled and asked the student volunteers to read the case. He explained a few important sections regarding the act. The programme then concluded with the students asking questions to him about the act followed by the vote of thanks given by Lakshmanan.

OUTCOME OF THE PROGRAMME:

Dr. Sulu Priya, Head, department of Social Work further acknowledged the credentials of Mr. Parthasarathy and revisited a successful session that was organised a few years earlier on the topic of the day, which was extremely well received by both students and their parents who had also been invited.

The Speaker began the session by thanking the department for the invitation extended. He explained that the session was not only about knowing about the common emergencies, but also identifying signs and symptoms of each. He clarified that 'sign' was what could be observed from the patient, whereas 'symptom' is what the patient/ casualty reports. He was set to take the students through a session filled with do's and don'ts of each situation, focusing on the don'ts as much of the practices followed in India are, he feels to be myths and may put the casualty in further danger.

He classified emergencies as Medical, Injury and Environmental. He gave Low Blood Pressure, stroke as typical examples of medical emergencies, Bleeding, Fracture, Sprain, electrocution as Injury and occurrences of Snake bite or heatstroke as caused by environmental factors.

Theoretical and practical instructions were shared with clarity, giving equal importance to know how to approach a problem when we come across it in any social environment. Valuable insight was given for the state of Tamil Nadu's emergency helpline of 108, and how it is actually an integrated platform delivering prompt emergency services to the people.

Types of hazards and emergency conditions were presented at length, including:

- Breathing problems
- Use of EpiPen if allergic
- Myocardial infarction (Heart Attack)
- Stroke and the means to test it through the FAST (Facial change, Arms drifting, Speech slurry and Time based intervention) technique.
- Seizure
- Low Blood sugar
- Fainting and causes
- External bleeding and ways to control with first aid
- Fractures, sprain and strain all require SLIPDUCT technique of intervention and posture control and stability of concerned limb.
- Electrocution
- Heatstroke
- The RIGHT method by WHO for Snake Bite. We must treat any snake bite as venomous and arrange for care right away.

Demonstration:

CPR (Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation) through the High frequency Compression technique was demonstrated on dummies through student volunteers.

The ratio of compressions to adult was clearly mapped and instructed to the students, as the aspect of chest recoil is important to not compromise the resuscitation technique.

Detailed Report of the Programme:

DAY 01 (24.02.2022 – Thursday)

The workshop on street play started at 10 AM. The trainer Dr.Gobi started it with an ice breaking session where the students were asked to form a circle and divided them into 2 groups. They were asked to give an introduction about the person on their left and not their own. In this way we got to know about the interests and got to know about the person more.

After the introduction the same groups were asked to create a sculpture of their opponents thinking them as the clay and they started sculpting in their own way. Later, after a short break the class was again divided into 4 groups where they were asked to think differently with the props given like bottles, bags, pipes and curtains. The students created different scenarios where the pops will be used in daily life.

The same groups made a picture of the situations given by the instructor and asked the other groups to identify them. After this the whole class played a game named Red-Yellow-Green where Red means to sit down , Yellow means to stand still and Green means to walk. This was done to increase the hearing and concentration of the students.

Around 3:30 PM after lunch break, the students assembled back in class and the instructor again divided the students into groups of 5 and gave them a social issue to enact and the groups did on Alcohol, horror story, bus scenario and a story based on hijab issue

12. Detailed Report of the programme:

The workshop was organised to introduce the heritage-rich martial art Silambam to the female students of the college. In his presidential address, principal Capt. Dr. S. Santhosh Baboo explained how Silambam gained prominence in the life of ancient Tamils as a way of protecting their harvest and highlighted the need of the hour to protect the art.

Alumnus Dr. A. Abdul Rahman enlightened the participants about the evolution of Silambam, especially how it survived the efforts of the British to efface it. A group of 21 children from Karayar Baba Silambatta Kalai Koodam exhibited their trained skills. Expert demonstrations were given by the resource person himself followed by Mr. Rajan, Head Constable, Lighthouse Police Station, and Ms. Mythili, first World Silambam Champion in the girls category. They dexterously displayed the handling of equipment like Silambam sticks, star frames and surul vaal (coiling sword). The performances were done in synchronisation with the energetic beats of Thara Thappattam players. The participants were given warm-up exercises for the enhancement of the body's flexibility and were then taught the basic steps in Silambam.

Certificates of appreciation were presented to the resource person, the group of young performers and also the participants.

13. Outcome of the Programme:

The workshop taught the true history and basics of Silambam to the participants. They got inspired by the performances and expressed interest to undertake full-fledged training of the martial art.
